Bolton and Wolves Fourth-Round Clash

LONDON (Reuters) — Defending champion Bolton Wanderers and Wolverhampton Wanderers, last season's league champions, were pitted against each other today in the draw for the fourth round of Britain's giant soccer elimination tournament, the Football Association Cup.

The teams, favorites for the cup, will clash at Wolverhampton Jan. 24 in the feature match of the round.

On their way to the cup last season, the Wanderers, playing at home, knocked out Wolverhampton 2-1 in the sixth round.

The draw was made complex by five third-round matches postponed by the big freeze-up and seven draws Saturday.

The fourth round will reduce the field to 16. The 44 teams now in the hunt include 19 from the first division, 13 from division two, eight from division three, one from division four and three non-league clubs.

Today's complete draw was:

Newcastle United or Chelsea vs. Aston Villa.

Blackburn Rovers vs. Stockport County or Burnley.

Wolverhampton Wanderers vs. Bolton Wanderers.

Tottenham Hotspur vs. Newport County or Torquay United.

Doncaster Rovers or Bristol City vs. Blackpool.

Worcester City or Liverpool vs. Sheffield United.

Stoke City vs. Ipswich Town.

Accrington Stanley vs. Portsmouth.

Middlesbrough or Birmingham City vs. Fulham or Peterborough United.

Tooting and Mitcham or Nottingham Forest vs. Grimsby Town or Manchester City.

Charlton Athletic vs. Everton.

Derby County or Preston North End vs. Bradford City.

Leicester City or Lincoln City vs. Luton Town.

Norwich City vs. Cardiff City.

Sheffield Wednesday or West Bromwich Albion vs. Brentford.

Colchester United vs. Arsenal.

Wears Braces, Still Curls

Physical handicap couldn't stop Chris Martin of Montreal from becoming an avid curler. Martin, shown here delivering his rock, has steel braces on his legs, but still curls regularly, and recently played for a Mount Royal College rink in a high school bonspiel.—(CPC.)

History-Making Score Hardly Worth Mention

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Ann Edell made history in the United States All-Star Bowling Championships Sunday. She's not happy about it.

The 31-year-old Brooklyn instructor rolled a 92, lowest single-game score ever in the tournament. Mrs. Edell's other games Sunday were 163, 150 and 136 for a four-game total of 541.

Students Curl Round-Robin

Jim Gallaugher's Vancouver Island championship rink from Victoria High School will meet rinks from Vancouver, North Vancouver and Haney Saturday in a round-robin tournament to decide a regional representative in the provincial high school curling final.

Winner of Saturday's tournament will advance to a four-rink round-robin for the B.C. championship in Prince George Jan. 24.

Rinks competing against the Victoria quartet will be skipped by Dennis Jamieson of North Vancouver High School, Jim McKay of King Edward High School in Vancouver and Bill Kennedy of Haney High School.

In an interior zone playoff Sunday, Bob Jennejohn's J. V. Rogers High School rink from Nelson won the West Kootenay championship by defeating Ron Stone's Trail rink, 11-9.

Stone is the son of Roy Stone, who along with his brother, Reg, has curled on six B.C. championship rinks.
